SUMMARY

On 9 March 2026, all LSEG Conversational Dealing customers are required to use LSEG Advanced Dealing for their Dealing activity.

DESCRIPTION

What is the change?

On the effective date of 9 March 2026, all Dealing customers globally are required to use LSEG Advanced Dealing. From this date onwards, it will no longer be possible to send or receive messages via LSEG Conversational Dealing. However, it will still be possible to view historical trades in the blotter.

LSEG Advanced Dealing is already available to all customers in the LSEG Workspace for FX Trading desktop (See PCN209652). For more information on this product, you should refer to the following guides (attached to this notification):

- Advanced Dealing - An Introduction
- Advanced Dealing - Quick Start Guide

Customer advice:

To familiarise themselves with the new capabilities, customers should access LSEG Advanced Dealing prior to 9 March 2026 and follow these steps:

1. Open the following three apps in Workspace for access to Advanced Dealing:

- LSEG Messenger
- ADTICKET
- ADBLOTTER

Note:

It is also possible to open pre-defined templates for Advanced Dealing containing the ADTICKET and ADBLOTTER apps. To do this, select 'My files' from the Workspace menu (keyboard shortcut Alt+F), then 'LSEG Templates' and 'Advanced Dealing'.

2. Check that the LSEG Messenger app contains a tab named 'Trade'.
3. Check that both the ADTICKET and ADBLOTTER display a green light connectivity indicator (see the image on page 1 of the 'Advanced Dealing - Quick Start Guide'. If you see a red light, this could indicate a connectivity issue. If this happens, contact Support (details below).
4. Check that your payment instructions are set up correctly via the CUST-AD-ADMIN app in Workspace. For more details, see page 3 of 'Advanced Dealing – An Introduction' and page 4 of 'Advanced Dealing - Quick Start Guide'.
5. Any payment instructions that are currently stored in 'Abbreviations' will need to be added to the payment instructions settings of the CUST-AD-ADMIN app in Workspace. For more information, see page 3 of 'Advanced Dealing – An Introduction' and page 4 of the 'Advanced Dealing - Quick Start Guide' guide.

Post trade:

Straight through processing is already enabled for customers, and tickets will flow to Post Trade applications. Customers who utilise straight through processing should refer to the attached post trade guides, which are also available on My Account.

Access to other trading venues:

This move to Advanced Dealing does not impact access to the FX Trading desktop for other FX Trading workflows such as (but not limited to) Matching, PriceStream and FXall RFQ. Access to these venues via the FX Trading desktop remains unchanged.

Why is the change occurring?

LSEG Advanced Dealing is the new dealing platform for the FX Trading community offering many new features, enhancements and benefits. The FX Community is required to use Advanced Dealing for all future trading workflows because, after the effective date, it will not be possible to send or receive messages via LSEG Conversational Dealing.

What is the impact of the change?

What action do you need to take?

Before 9 March 2026, customers are advised to log into Workspace and access LSEG Advanced Dealing, familiarise themselves with the new capabilities, and take the steps detailed in the 'Customer advice' section above.
